

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks on the two bills just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas?

There was no objection.

MASSIVE DRUG TESTING IS AN UNREASONABLE "SEARCH AND SEIZURE"

(Mr. HOYER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks and include extraneous matter.)

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, the report issued yesterday by the President's Commission on Organized Crime calling for a complete national resolve to fight drug use is a welcome one.

It is clear that we are not winning the battle to prevent drugs from entering our country. We are not reducing drug sales on our streets. And, most importantly, we are not keeping drugs away from our children.

There are Americans who abhor the crime caused by drugs, but condone their "private" use. We have to change our national outlook on this problem. The people who are using illicit drugs must recognize that their patronage contributes to organized crime organizations and spreads the cancer of drug-caused crime across our Nation's cities.

Many of the Organized Crime Commission's suggestions for combatting the drug problem are welcome, including: increased prosecutions, increased drug education, and increased funding for drug enforcement agencies.

What is not welcome, is the call to test all Federal employees for drug use.

A fundamental tenet of our society is embodied in the fourth amendment protection against unreasonable searches and seizures. Massive drug testing is clearly a violation of that right.

There is no evidence that Federal employees are as a group drug users. A testing program would only have the effect of demoralizing the work force, wasting money and testing literally millions of people.

Secretary Shultz indicated in the strongest of terms his refusal to take a polygraph exam. It would be interesting to see his response to the request to submit to a urinalysis test.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON CIVIL SERVICE,
Washington, DC, March 4, 1986.

Hon. RONALD REAGAN,
President of the United States,
The White House, Washington, DC

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: If a prize were created for the most idiotic recommendation of a Presidential Commission, the recommendation of the President's Commission on Organized Crime that Federal workers be subject to drug tests would surely be the winner.

All of us want to rid American society of the scourge of dangerous drugs. We know that they destroy and enrich gangsters. Yet, that's not the point.

The recommendation of the National Commission on Organized Crime that all Federal employees be subject to drug testing is an embarrassment to all who are concerned about an efficient and effective Federal workforce. It reflects a basic ignorance of government management, civil liberties and drug testing technology.

Does the Commission have evidence that Federal employees are engaged in organized crime? Is the bureaucracy a hotbed of mob activity? If so, the Commission should promptly come forward with its evidence. If not, the Commission should have stayed within its charter, rather than proposing policies to demoralize the workforce.

The foolishness of the Commission's approach is demonstrated by the fact that no one is proposing testing for off duty use of the two most addictive and destructive drugs known to society—alcohol and tobacco. The Surgeon General has documented that cigarette smoking results in greater illness and use of sick leave. We all know what a hang-over can do to work performance. If we are looking for off duty conduct which interferes with on the job performance, cigarette smoking and alcohol consumption might be candidates. Still, prohibiting Federal workers from smoking or drinking off duty would be abhorrent to me and most Americans.

Widespread drug testing would be bad management even if urinalysis were accurate. It is not. The relatively cheap drug store urinalysis kits where chemicals are inserted into a vial of urine produce high proportions of false negatives and false positives. Only highly expensive laboratory tests have a high degree of reliability. With a $200 billion deficit and a strong policy embodied in Gramm-Rudman to reduce that deficit, we cannot afford to spend the hundreds of millions of dollars it would take to give reliable tests to all Federal workers. And the Commission has not provided any justification for this sort of massive new Federal program.

Urinalysis tests are, not surprisingly, much more accurate for drugs which leave high concentrations of residue in the body, such as marijuana, and not very accurate for hallucinogens and designer drugs. Yet, it is this latter group of drugs which is likely to have a much greater work impact. It is also this latter group which is more appropriately the target of major government intervention. So, drug testing poorly serves the policy of ridding society of its most dangerous drugs.

To clear the air and reassure the Federal workforce, I urge you to publicly repudiate this stupid proposal.

With kind regards,
Sincerely,

PATRICIA SCHROEDER,
Chairwoman.
